루이즈 카스텔로에스 | Luiz Castelões - Pulse

"Pulse" (for flute, Bb clarinet, vibraphone, piano, violin, and cello; dedicated to Ensemble Mise-En, Moon Young Ha, and Arts Incubator) draws from a Brazilian song from 1973 ("Juízo Final" by Nelson Cavaquinho) in order to produce contrasting (sonic) realities: a gradually shared melody, a mechanical toy, a flute-and-drums texture, a flock of birds, chaos, and soundscape. All different, but all hidden beneath the same melody. The form alternates between stasis, a state of flux, sonic zigzagging, and some danceability (through a fully felt and steady pulse, hence the title).

Brazilian composer, professor at UFJF (Brazil) since 2009, and postdoc researcher at Birmingham Conservatoire (UK) in 2015-16. He holds degrees from Boston University (DMA, 2009), and UNIRIO (MM, 2004, and BM, 2001); prizes, residencies, and grants from Ibermusicas (OAS), CMMAS (Mexico), CAPES/Fulbright, UFRJ, and Funarte; latest performances/recordings of his music have been given by Quartetto Maurice, Mivos Quartet, and Ensemble Arsenale; recent articles/chapters published in OM Composer's Book Vol. 3 (IRCAM), Sonic Ideas (CMMAS), El oído pensante, and IRASM - International Review of the Aesthetics and Sociology of Music. Research interests: Algorithmic Composition, Musical Onomatopoeia, Image-to-Music Conversion, and Pop(ular) Music. www.luizcastelo.es.com
